

Tantidhatri 2019 THIRD EDITION
INTERNATIONAL WOMEN'S PERFORMING ARTS FESTIVAL

WHITE BIRD
By
KEIIN YOSHIMURA & VIVIANA BOVIN
(Japan-Spain)

18TH JANUARY 2019
15:30
RABINDRATIRTHA, NEW TOWN, KOLKATA

Book Your Tickets on
bookmyshow.com

www.ekatharakalari.org/tantidhatri tantidhatrifestival@gmail.com +91 8879494096 www.facebook.com/tantidhatri instagram.com/tantidhatri

Desde el 15 al 20 de enero viajaremos a la India para el Tantidhatri 2019, un excelente encuentro de mujeres artistas que vienen de distintos países y culturas teatrales que se encontraran en Calcuta. 6 intensos días de espectáculos, talleres, clases magistrales, conciertos y mesas redondas. Un encuentro necesario para seguir tejiendo valores comunes en el que hacer teatral.

El encuentro dirigido por Parvathy Baul es posible gracias a la red themagdalenaproject, artistas mujeres que desde muchos años luchan, trabajan y sueñan con encuentros así.

Nosotros estaremos compartiendo nuestra coproducción "WHITE BIRD, PAJARO BLANCO" dirigida por la maestra

Keiin Yoshimura

y con la actuación de la misma y de la actriz y pedagoga

Viviana Bovino

info del festival:

15th Jan to 20th Jan, 2019

Tantidhatri is India's first International Women's Performing Arts Festival. Its First Edition took place in Pondicherry in 2012 and the Second, in Bangalore in 2016. This third edition, will take place in Kolkata from 15th till 20th of January 2019. Tantidhatri aims at being a space of engagement for artists, thinkers and groups that are committed to women's work in the field of performing arts.

The festival will donate its surplus amount for education of girl children in India. Although physically it is a five day event filled with performances, critiques, talks and interactions, the spirit of the Tantidhatri is universal and not bound by time or space. This year the theme is 'Energy' and through the festival, we will be channelizing all our efforts towards the positive flow of energy in all things physical and meta physical. You can know more about the previous editions of Tantidhatri by clicking the links below.

Tantidhatri 2019 artists (in order of appearance in the program): Seema Kholi (India), Julia Varley (Odin Teatret- Denmark), Muyedittu ritual (India), Riwita Dutta Chakraborty (India), Amaranta Osorio and Suzon Fuks (Mexico, Australia, Spain), Ana Woolf (Argentina), Dipannita Acharya (India), Parwati Dutta (India), Pandavani (India), Violeta Luna and Rakini Devi (Mexico-India), Monica de la Fuente (Spain), Samarpita Chanda (India), Lopamudra (India), Viviana Bovino (Spain), Nathalie Mentha (Teatro Potlach- Italy), Brigitte Cirila and Eleonore Bovon (France), Helen Varley Jamieson (New Zeland), Verónica Moraga and Antonieta Muñoz (Chile), Keiin Yoshimura (Japan), Dr. Uttara Chousalkar (India), Maristella Martella (Italy), Dah Theater (Serbia), Jill Greenhalgh and Meg Ella (UK), Geddy Aniskdal (Grenland Friteater- Norway), Parvathy Baul (India) among others more info..... Tantidhatri 2019 ,

Tantidhatri is India's first International Women's Performing Arts Festival. Its First Edition took place in Pondicherry in 2012 and the Second, in Bangalore in 2016. This third edition, will take place in Kolkata from 15th till 20th of January 2019. Tantidhatri aims at being a space of engagement for artists, thinkers and groups that are committed to women's work in the field of performing arts.

The festival will donate its surplus amount for education of girl children in India. Although physically it is a five day event filled with performances, critiques, talks and interactions, the spirit of the Tantidhatri is universal and not bound by time or space. This year the theme is 'Energy' and through the festival, we will be channelizing all our efforts towards the positive flow of energy in all things physical and meta physical. You can know more about the previous editions of Tantidhatri by clicking the links below.

Joomla SEO powered by JoomSEF